

THE ACTING GYM

(for all levels)
Instructed by Steph Davis

We go to the gym to stay physically fit and flexible. Why not go to “the acting gym” in to stay mentally fit and flexible as an actor! My approach is unique. I combine many different acting techniques ultimately designed to fill your acting toolbox. Though NO PHYSICAL LIFTING IS REQUIRED, I will make you stretch and lift some heavy acting weight.

Acting muscles that will be worked:

-Memory, Observation, Imagination, Voice, Investigation, Repetition, Creativity

Benefits after 6 weeks:

-The ability to create a character from scratch; a heightened awareness on stage; a much greater ability to think outside of the box; the ability to breakdown a scene; the ability to identify and properly use sub-text; a huge boost in confidence; and an uncontrollable urge to go out and get cast! You will be pushed to go much further than you’ve ever thought you could. The work will be hard but you’ll have fun doing it. It’s time to go to the Acting Gym and work out!

6 WEEKS (Saturdays)
Workshop Starting
6/24/2017 – 7/29/2017

$275

Held every Saturday 9am to 12pm
Camino Real Playhouse - Main Stage (or Stage II)

To ensure adequate personal attention, the workshop limit is 12 students. Class is filling up, so REGISTER TODAY!

About the Instructor

Steph Davis was the artistic director of the Orange Curtain Theatre that ran in STAGE II of the Camino Real Playhouse for five seasons. He's trained as an actor under Allan Miller - famous coach of Dustin Hoffman and Meryl Streep. He has appeared off-Broadway as Malcolm X, along with a tour of A Soldier's Play. Also an accomplished stage director, he has received rave reviews for plays including March, Shirley Valentine, and Almost Maine (where he earned an honorable mention in the 2008 Garland Awards by Backstage West) right here on STAGE II at the Camino Real Playhouse.

*To pay by check or cash email stephd3@yahoo.com to secure your spot, CC payments visit caminorealplayhouse.org

All Classes at the Camino Real Playhouse - 31776 El Camino Real in San Juan Capistrano